PEOPLE'S VOICE for Social Justice

BUILDING A NEW MOVEMENT

Kent State University May 31 – June 2, 2002

Moved by the urgent global situation we have been gathering to share experiences as movement activists and organizers concerning anti-globalization, anti-death penalty, peace, social and economic justice and civil rights, labor, and many others. We differ in age and backgrounds but share common traditions of participatory democracy and self-activity.

Encouraged by this sense of community, we are determined to broaden our solidarity with others who work to make the planet a better place.

WE ARE NOT CREATING A NEW ORGANIZATION. We invite you to attend the Building A New Movement conference to help our separated movements and struggles converge, and possibly create a new document similar to the Port Huron Statement created by Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) forty years ago.

Bring your needs for learning; Bring what you can contribute--stories, experience, knowledge; Bring musical instruments, songs, and art work.
