

Faculty Fun Night 1946

PROGRAM NOTES

CEREMONIAL DANCES

Ceremonial foot-beats honor saints but remember ancient deities.

VOLADOR—In this vestige of an ancient rain ceremony, the dancers fly on ropes from a tall pole, including the flutist-drummer and Malinche, dressed as a woman. They dance in church, in procession, aloft, and again on the ground.

LOS CONCHEROS—A "Danza de Promeza," danced by vow in church or atrium in circular formation. A pre-Conquest ritual adorned with European steps from Spain, Russia, Renaissance England and France. The shell of the armadillo furnishes the lute-like instrument, the "concha."

EL VIEJITO—Young men mimic their elders in tottering zapateados (foot-work). The natives of Cucuchucho on Lake Patzcuaro use three versions of La Cruz, a cruciform step.

LA SEMBRADORA—Colonial version of an Indian sowing ceremony, danced by Tarascan men and women around a yolk of oxen.

YAQUI FIESTA DANCES—Among the Yaqui Indians, Easter and other Catholic holidays culminate in the primitive "Pascolas" and Deer Dance ceremony, a symbolic drama of the hunt and sacrifice of the totemic animal. Day and night they dance. The Pascola mask is that of the Macho Cabrillo, He-Goat.

DANCE CEREMONIES OF INDIA—Each gesture has a traditional religious meaning—a mood or thought, action or object.

MODERN PRIMITIVES

MEDIEVAL SUITE—three medieval moods.

The Song of the Fisher expresses the fear of godly things, in wooden, distorted movement as of cavern images. The Rose in the Garden has the postures of a medieval woman, sometimes religious, sometimes joyous and earthly. The Chase is a boisterous, half-comic dance of the hunt and its fanfare.

LIEDER UM DEN TOD (Songs of Death)

Winter Night—Thick white winter night . . . Homeward I walk alone . . . I see you afar off in the dark room, resting in white linen . . .

The Sower—Through the land goes Farmer Death, scattering seeds without number.

FLOWERS FOR A MAD BRIDE—"These are the flowers for a mad bride.

At dusk, on the black earth, under black trees . . . She shall fill her torn white hands with these." The dance came from Winifred Wells' poem about the "Indian pipe," but without literal translation. It portrays a woman demented, as she recalls memories of shock, of an unfinished lullaby, and flees them in tortured fear.

CHANSONS MADECASSES (Songs of Madagascar)—from translation by E. Parnay.

Nahandove—Evening has come, Nahandove, what can detain you? The bed of leaves is strewn with flowers . . . She comes! Oh rest here on my knee, sweet friend. Your kisses inflame my soul . . . You go—until this evening, Nahandove?

Aouah!—Trust not the white man! Once they came to our island; we bade them be our brothers. They promised, yet they built entrenchments and talked of slavery. Rather Death! The carnage was long and terrible, yet they were all destroyed, and we live—free! Trust not the white man.

Repos—It is sweet to rest in the heat of the day. Women, sing and dance for me with slow and voluptuous steps . . . The evening breeze rises. Go and prepare the supper.

ALABANZA—Modern patterns heighten a Mexican ritual theme—a Song of Praise to the Virgin of Guadalupe. Her Fiesta is December 11-12.

President's Party Honoring Flemings Is Talk Of The Town

The Flemings Arrive

On hand to greet University President Robben W. Fleming (left) and Mrs. Fleming as they arrived at the Michigan Union Friday evening for the party in their honor were U-M Regent Robert P. Briggs and Mrs. Briggs. Partygoers filled the ballroom and overflowed into two adjoining rooms, as members of the Faculty Women's Club and the University Club turned out in full force to welcome the Flemings to Ann Arbor.

Party Planners At Ease

University Club President Daniel N. Fader (left) and Mrs. Fader chat with Mr. and Mrs. Brymer Williams shortly before "The President's Party" gets under way in the Union ballroom. Mr. Fader and Mrs. Williams, who is president of the Faculty Women's Club, seem pleased with the party's progress thus far.

By Marcia Wood

The weekend social whirl (and it has been quite a spin!) has centered around "The President's Party" held last night in the Michigan Union.

Honored guests at the event, which was jointly sponsored by the University Club and the Faculty Women's Club, were University President Robben W. Fleming and Mrs. Fleming.

The gala affair included a 7:30 p.m. dinner in the Michigan Union Ballroom followed by a program and reception.

Highlighting the program was a satirical number on campus life presented by Prof. Marvin Felheim, Prof. Whitmore Gray and Associate Prof. Beverley J. Pooley.

Jerry H. Bilik of the University School of Music was featured in a piano routine, and the program in the ballroom was concluded with musical selections by the U of M Jazz band, under the direction of Don Gillis Jr.

Pourers at the reception which followed the program included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Jobe, Mr. Samuel D. Estep, Mrs. David B. Gaffney and Mr. and Mrs. Guy G. Reiff.

A round of pre-parties preceded the activities in the ballroom.

Entertaining about 40 guests at a 6 p.m. cocktail hour in their home on Londonderry Road were Mr. and Mrs. J. Philip Wernette. Mrs. Wernette is vice president of the Faculty Women.

Among the Wernettes' guests were Pres. and Mrs. Fleming, Regent and Mrs. Robert P. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel N. Fader and Mr. and Mrs. Brymer Williams. Mr. Fader is president of the University Club, and Mrs. Williams is president of the Faculty Women.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Pierce of Roxbury Road opened their home to approximately 30 partygoers for cocktails. Included among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. Hart Wright (she was chairman of the program committee for the President's event), and Mr. and Mrs. Beverley J. Pooley, Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore Gray and Marvin Felheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Richart Jr. were hosts at a 5:45 p.m. cocktail party in their home before the gala at the Union.

Several members of the program committee for the President's Party were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Arden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Kennedy. Mrs. Richart also was a member of the program committee.

Also attending the Richart party were Mr. and Mrs. John M. McColtun and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry H. Bilik.

Cocktail guests of the Clyde H. Thompsons of Barton Shore Drive last evening were the Eugene W. Troths, the Ward O. Winers and the Richard E. Sonstags.

Enjoying cocktails with the Lester W. Andersons of Morion Avenue before adjourning to the President's Party were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Bertolaet.

Invited for cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard Crane of Avon Road yesterday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Case, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Dennison and Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Haddock.

Hosts at a 5 p.m. cocktail pre-party in their Sunnywood Drive home were Mr. and Mrs. James L. Miller Jr.

Guests at the Miller party were faculty members from the University Center for the Study of Higher Education. They were Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brubacher, Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Lewis.

This first weekend of the national United Jewish Appeal campaign is being highlighted by social gatherings in the homes of three Ann Arborites.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Abrams of Ausable Street will be hosts for a cocktail party tonight beginning at 7 p.m. in their home. Dr. Peretz Kraicer, a visiting scientist from the Weizmann Institute of Science in Israel, will speak to those gathered at the Abrams home.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. the Charles Gelmans of Hawthorne Street will open their home for a cocktail get-together. Prof. Herbert H. Paper, an expert in the Persian language and in Iranian affairs, will discuss the present situation in that country, with emphasis on the status of Jewish refugees.

Literary College Dean William Haber will speak Sunday evening at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Bernard A. Galler on Ferdon Road. The gathering, at 8:30 p.m., will feature Dean Haber discussing the United Jewish Appeal, its needs, goals and organization. Prof. Lawrence B. Shohokun will show slides of Israel after the conflict of the past summer.

Mrs. Elmer Jespersen of Westwood Street recently returned from a month's tour of the South Pacific with the Detroit Edison Camera Club. She visited Tahiti, New Zealand, Australia and Hawaii in her travels.

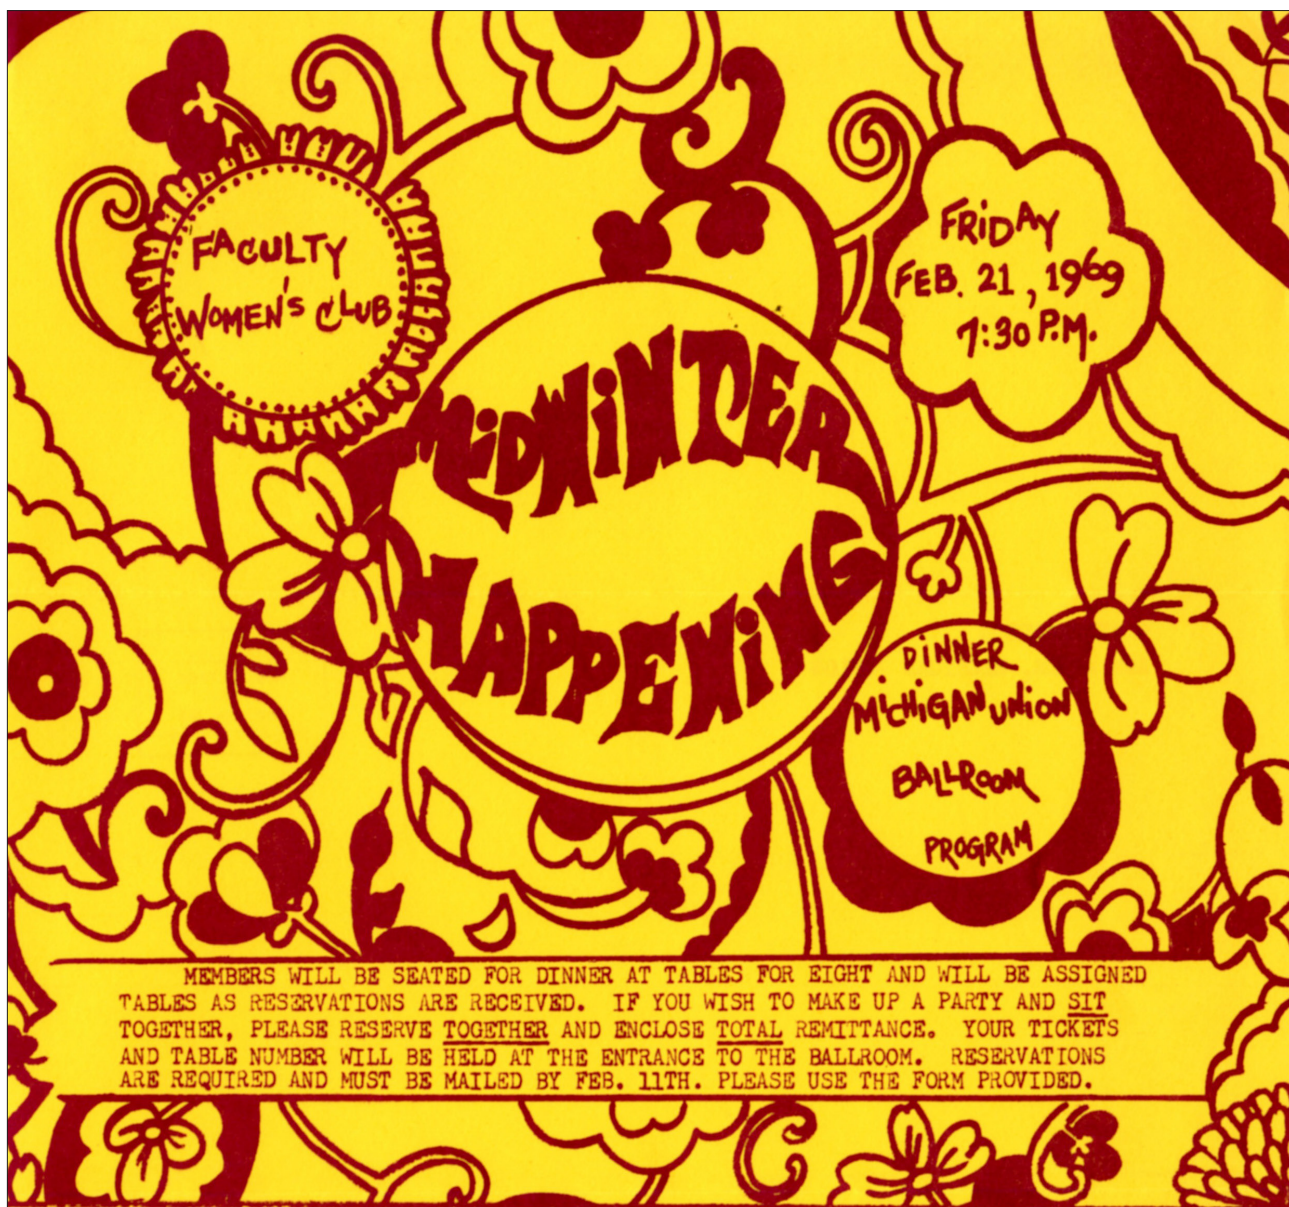

Special houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Bailey of Longshore Drive are Lt. Thomas S. Bailey and his wife, Suzanne, and Walter O. Bailey Jr., his wife Judith and their two sons, Richard Scott and Christopher Nelson of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Lt. Bailey and his wife arrived in Ann Arbor Thursday evening from Athens, Greece, where he was stationed in the 726th Support Group of the U.S. Air Force.

Word has been received from Indiana University at Bloomington that Linda Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Robinson of Sheridan Drive, has pledged Alpha Phi social sorority during the university's deferred formal rush.

FWC Holding 'Happening'

"A Midwinter Happening" is in store for Faculty Women's Club members and their spouses on Friday, Feb. 21, in the Michigan Union Ballroom.

The evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. with dinner in the ballroom to be followed by "more than an hour of sparkling entertainment," according to Mrs. Charles R. Fisher, FWC program chairman.

Hazen J. Schumacher Jr., associate director of the University's T.V. and Broadcasting Service, will be master of ceremonies.

The musical portion of the program will consist of selections by the Friars and by a University Jazz Band Combo, under the direction of John Englert. A mini-opera entitled, "The Music Gap" will be performed by John M. McCollum and Mrs. Bruce W. Arden, a faculty wife.

University professor Harold A. Haugh will give a humor-

"Colonel Stoopnagle Happens onto Dr. Spooner."

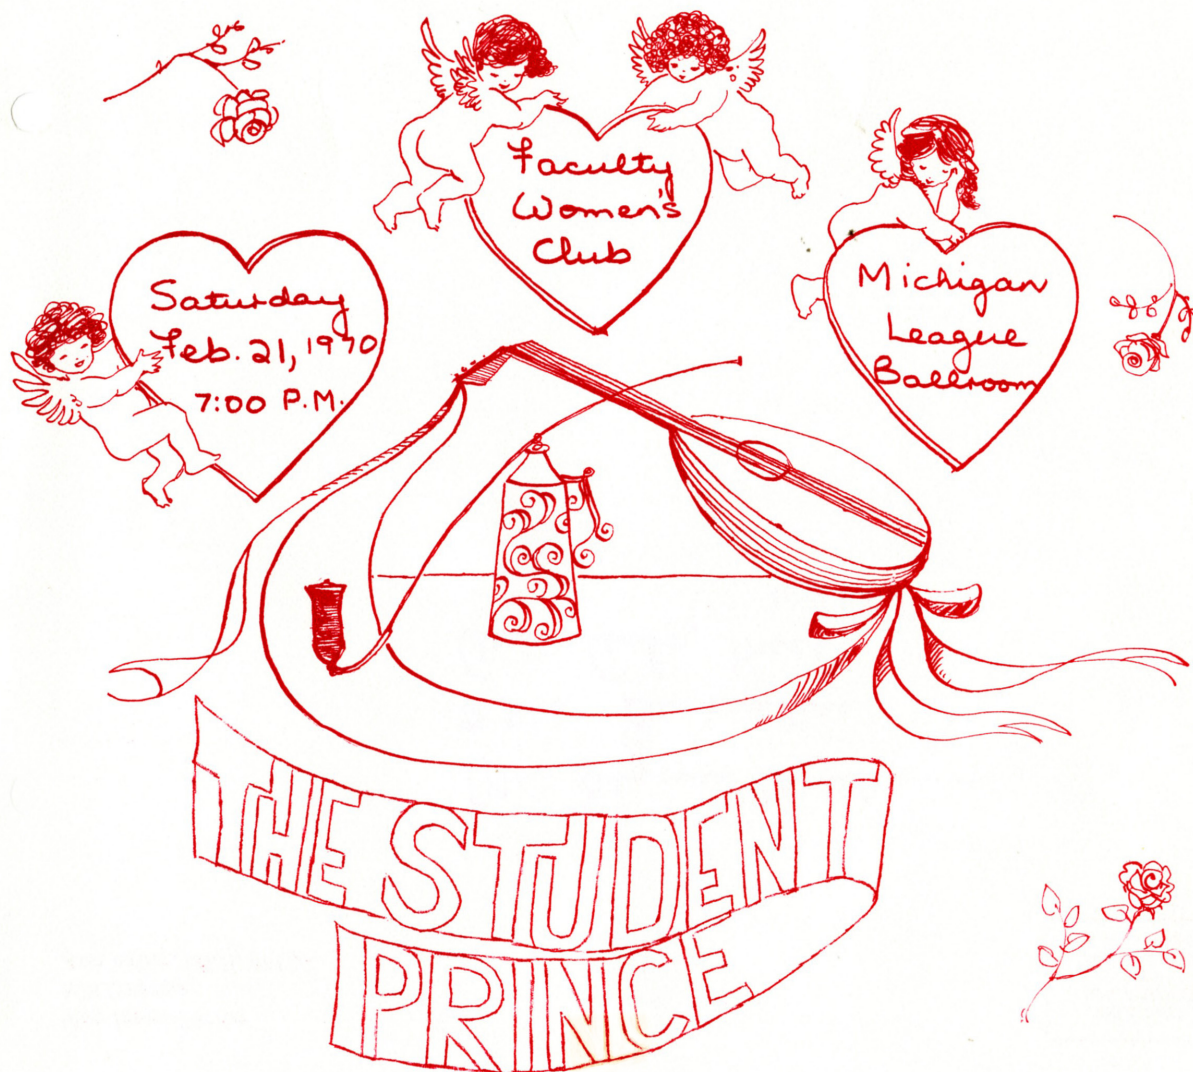

For those interested in fashion, there will be "Happenings in Fashion" mod (maybe mad) fashions by Miss Pat Alesco, a student in the School of Architecture and Design and by the Plaster of Paris shop.

In charge of social arrangements are Mrs. John Faulkner, chairman for this event;

Mrs. Roy F. Proffitt, FWC social chairman and her assistant, Mrs. David G. Parke; Mrs. Fisher, and her assistant program chairman, Mrs. John W. McCollum.

SYNOPSIS: "The Student Prince"

The opening scene takes place in the castle in Karlsburg where Prince Karl Franz will some day reign as king. Dr. Engel, the young prince's tutor, has been ordered to accompany the Prince to Heidelberg to safeguard the Prince's "court etiquette." Reminiscing about the happiness of his college days at Heidelberg, Dr. Engel sings Golden Days and is joined in duet by the Prince.

The scene changes to the Inn of the Three Golden Apples at Heidelberg. The students enter and toast their sweethearts with the Drinking Song. Kathie, the very popular waitress of the Inn, urges them to enjoy the freedom of college life: Come Boys, Let's All Be Gay, Boys.

The Prince and Dr. Engel arrive and are welcomed by Kathie, who sings of the loveliness of life in Heidelberg. The Prince and Kathie fall in love and express their feelings in the duet Deep in my Heart.

The Prince is invited to join a fraternity: Come, Sir, Will You Join Our Noble Saxon Corps? He is saluted by the corps singing Gaudeamus Igitur. Dr. Engel asks the Prince to sing the student Serenade. This action is followed by a salute to youth and love through the song Carnival of Springtime.

Four months later, exhilarated by the freedom he has been experiencing, the Prince, accompanied by students and Kathie, extol the pleasures of Student Life.

He resolves to escape stuffy court life by running away to Paris with Kathie, who sings We're Off to Paris. Their plans are interrupted by the news that the king is seriously ill and calling for the Prince to return home. With foreboding the Prince sings Thoughts Will Come To Me of Days That Are No More.

Two years later, amidst the pomp and ritual of the palace, the Prince, now king, remembers vividly his life in Heidelberg, and when a vision of Kathie appears, he decides to go back once more.

Returning to Heidelberg, the young King asks his old college friends and Kathie to join him at the Inn where they sing a reprise of Serenade and Come, Boys, Let's All Be Gay, Boys.
