

CONTENTS

Introduction ix

Part One: Looking at our Languages

- 1 Intellectual Integration 3
- 2 The Language of Concepts: A Case Study 22
- 3 The Language and Culture of Economics 46
- Appendix to Chapter Three 82

Part Two: The Judicial Opinion as a Form of Life

- 4 Judicial Criticism 89
- 5 "Original Intention" in the Slave Cases 113
- 6 "Plain Meaning" and Translation:
The Olmstead Opinions 141
- 7 The Reading of Precedent: United States v. White 160
- 8 The Fourth Amendment as a Way of Talking About
People: The Robinson Case 176
- 9 The Constitutive Character of the
Exclusionary Rule 203
- 10 The Judicial Opinion as a Form of Life 215

Part Three: The Activity of Translation

- 11 Translation, Interpretation, and Law 229
- 12 Justice as Translation 257

Notes 271

Index 303